

Salvation Army - Harvest of Love

In an effort to help stock the food pantry shelves at the Salvation Army, the City of Newton got involved and assigned each department specific items to donate.

The Newton Police Department personnel were given the task of collecting peanut butter and jelly. Money was collected for the “peanut butter and jelly fund” and the items were purchased.

The needs of the community have been greater this year, than ever before. This was a great opportunity for departments to participate and help provide for this vital service which community members depend on.

Due to active participation of Newton Police Department members we were able to donate 27 jars of peanut butter and 22 jars of jelly to the Harvest of Love.
